

All Inclusive Gulet Charter in Croatia

Food and drinks are usually extra for crewed gulet charters. There are various ways to organize your all-inclusive gulet charter. Different yachts have different systems for meal and drink provision. Crewed gulets, sailing gulets, and motor yachts usually have the APA system. The Advanced Provisioning Allowance involves the clients paying a percentage lump sum in advance, to cover several expenses, including fuel and food and drink provisions. Some gulet owners offer clients their own tailored fully inclusive drinks and meals option. Whereas in Croatia, it is normal to opt for a Full Board, or Half Board package. Also, they generally offer separate drinks packages; covering soft drinks and alcoholic drinks.

First of all, you will talk about the price of the gulet and crew. Then food packages and beverage packages are offered separately. Of course, this can all be a bit daunting in the beginning. Your broker agency can arrange an all-inclusive price for your gulet charter. So, it is simple to explain and work out the shared costs with your fellow guests.

However, it's important to bear in mind the meals onboard are something special to experience and form an important part of your whole yacht charter voyage. Meals are all freshly prepared on board, and most guests would agree it would be hard to find better options at the ashore when you take into account the whole dining experience, onboard. Meals are generally served at a large table on the aft deck, where you and your guests can enjoy being served by the crew, and a whole selection of options, will be provided at each meal (Breakfast, Lunch, afternoon tea and snacks, Evening Dinner) The Chef will utilize the best local, fresh, healthy and seasonal products and you will be relaxed with your guests,
